DeMolays Vote Brainerd Best Convention City

CONCLAVE MIXED WITH BUSINESS, SPORTS AND FUN

AN IMPROMPTU PARADE OF KITCHEN RAMBLERS STAGED DOWNTOWN

CAREY'S TALK HIGHLIGHT, SUCCESSFUL STUNT NIGHT, GIRLS WANTED FOR BIG HOP

To 300 DeMolay boys there is no place like Brainerd for a convention city.

Individually and collectively in groups they voted this city ace high and in every moment they could be spared from their business sessions at Lum Park, they paid downtown Brainerd visits.

Those visits were marked with much jubilation.

Scores of boys at noon today and the early afternoon held a tom-tom parade but instead of drums to beat on they had stowed stores for dish-pans and other kitchen utensils.

The pow-wow was accompanied by whoops and general merry making.

But there was more than fun making for these clear-eyed youths. They take their fun joyfully and their business seriously.

And so it happens when their sessions are called at Lum Park they consider all phases presented with the keenest intellect in their young active brains.

Duluth said this morning "We have just the ideal place for the state DeMolay camp." But the boys thought it over seriously and replied, "We'll think it over and let you know tomorrow."

The question of where the state camp will be located will not be decided until tomorrow. The Duluth chapter is in favor of purchasing the "Pencilly," abandoned railroad recreational center on Swan lake, nine miles north of Nashwauk.

Other chapters feel that this location, despite the fine financial position offered by its owners, was too far north and favored a more central location.

Roosevelt Chapter, Brainerd, said that Ahren's Hill would be the ideal location and so this afternoon a special committee was looking over the site and will talk over the proposition with owners of the hill property. That location is now the property of a group of Northern Pacific shop men.

The Swan lake camp will go for $2,500. It is worth all of $8,000, the Duluth members say.

Degree Work Tonight

This evening's session will be featured by the conferring of the initiatory degree by state officers and the conferring of the DeMolay degree by Roosevelt Chapter, Brainerd. The work will be put on starting at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic Temple.

Candidates are: Louis Lundin, Robert Otto, Mankato; Robert Farnham, Montevideo; Raymond Hall, Duluth; Clarence Nelson, Fergus Falls; Cort Olson, Owatonna, Lee Clarkson, Brainerd.

Stunt Night, Lotsa Fun

Stunt Night at the Lum Park pavilion last evening turned out to be lots of fun and brought out entertainment talent among the boys hitherto unknown.

Take for instance, no one guessed that the Thomas Montgomery Chapter of St. Paul had in its group surgeons of renown. Well, really they didn't but anyway the shadow act was quite a scientific demonstration.

And the North Star Chapter of Hibbing maybe never had been on the interior of a lighthouse but that didn't stop them from depicting it.

Jack Nichols of Winona Chapter is an evening of entertainment in himself. Let it be known far and wide that he is a magician and believe it or not he has nothing to hide. No scurrying rabbits or flying doves for him.

The Lincoln Chapter, Minneapolis, put on a stunt pertaining to gangsters, big, bold, bad ones.

The musical field was also well

3 PRISON RIOTERS AT AUBURN, N. Y., ARE EXECUTED

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Three Auburn prison convicts paid with their lives last night for the murder of Henry Sullivan, fellow prisoner, during the riot last December.

Their last minute appeals and pleas unheeded, Jesse Thomas, William Force and Claude Udwine followed each other to the electric chair in Sing Sing prison with a show of bravado.

PERU RETURNS TO NORMALCY—LIFT MARTIAL LAW

CENSORSHIP ABOLISHED BECAUSE OF "ENTIRELY NORMAL SITUATION"

RECOGNITION OF NEW GOVERNMENT BY FOREIGN NATIONS EXPECTED SOON

Lima, Peru, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The lifting of martial law and government censorship last night marked the outward return of Peru to normalcy under the guidance of Lt. Col. Sanchez Cerro and the members of his military junta government.

Minister of Government Maj. Gustavo Jimenez received foreign correspondents at midnight and told them that censorship had been abolished in view of the "entirely normal situation."

Recognition of the new government by foreign nations is expected soon, Minister of Foreign Relations Col. Ernesto Montagne announced.

"Our chief concern is to preserve order and to clean house," he said. He indicated that no changes were contemplated in Peru's foreign policy. The Tacna-Arica question is entirely settled, he said.

Members of the junta government began work yesterday morning and continued until early today. Sanchez Cerro conferred with directors of the country's finance early this morning. It was understood that measures for effecting economy were discussed immediately, and that Sanchez Cerro outlined his plans for a reduction in the cost of maintaining the army and governmental departments.

covered. Deerwood Fitch, Owatonna, played piano solos; Red Wing had its trio of singers and guitar strummers; Duluth chapter gave a harmonica duet; "Dad" W. P. Scherer of Sir Galahad Chapter, Mankato, played the mouth organ and Vernard Lundin told Swedish stories that had a tang to them, and Minneapolis Chapter presented Art Boedy and Eldun Brittain in acrobatics.

Montevideo's Hula Hula girls shined. Their chorus number of "Singin' in the Bath Tub" was a riot.

And not forgetting two of this state's charming girls, Miss Mildred "Minn" Lofdahl of Montevideo, state DeMolay sweetheart, and Miss Clara Thomson, sweetheart of Valley Chapter, Montevideo. Miss Thomson sang beautifully, accompanied by Miss Lofdahl.

After the stunts the Brainerd Chapter distributed popcorn with their compliments.

Sports Program Starts

This afternoon found the boys engaged in the start of a sports program that will not be completed until tomorrow afternoon.

Sixteen were entered in the tennis tournament, all the courts in the city being utilized for the meet. The finals will be played at Gregory Park Saturday at 3 P. M.

A rifle range contest at 75 feet was being decided between 15 boys at Lum this afternoon. Likewise members were competing in 40-yard swimming races in free stroke and crawl. The important water race was that of the chapter relay. Field events were to include the shot put, the standing and running broad jump and two 100-yard dashes. Bronze medals were to be awarded for first place winners in each event with a cup donated by the State Order of DeMolays for the chapter winning the swimming relay.

A diamondball game is scheduled at 4 P. M. tomorrow at the water tower grounds between the Advisers and a picked team of DeMolays.

Mayor Grooms Boys

Mayor F. E. Little, introduced by "Dad" G. F. Mitchell, Brainerd, greeted the boys as follows this morning:

"The citizens of Brainerd bid you a welcome to our city.

"You are members of this great organization and fortunate in meeting with men who are striving to give to you sound advice and help you to live up to the teachings of your order.

"No boy who has become a member of the Order of DeMolays need ever to say that he has not received the finest opportunity to make a man of himself if he will but live up to the teachings of this order.

"We hope that the days you spend in our city will help you to make last-

2 Planes Crash in Midair at Iowa State Fair, Pilot Bumps Head, 2 Spectators Crack Skulls

AIR POCKET MAKES STUNTING PLANE SLIP

1 PILOT INJURED AND 7 SPECTATORS INJURED AT IOWA STATE FAIR

2 OF LATTER IN SERIOUS CONDITION, INJURIES MAY PROVE FATAL TO ONE

Des Moines, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—An air pocket that caused a stunting plane to slip was blamed today for the collision of two racing planes in mid-air, resulting in the injury to a pilot and seven spectators at the Iowa state fair.

Two of the spectators remained in a serious condition today and it was feared injuries to one may prove fatal. The most critically hurt is Vernon De Voe, of Mitchellville, Ia., who had not regained consciousness this morning. He has a fractured skull. Harold Waller, 10, of Norwalk, Ia., also is in a serious condition with a fractured skull.

Lieut. Leo Allen, pilot of the stunting plane that crashed to the ground after it collided with a racing companion, Pilot Cy Younglove, has a contusion of the forehead but his injuries are not regarded as serious. Other spectators injured are: J. B. Hayes, of Mitchellville; Ralph Robertson, Des Moines, leg broken; Rodwell Hill, Des Moines; Mrs. Claude Pope, Des Moines, and F. W. Schroeder, Des Moines.

Some time after the crash, the third member of the "Three Flying Sons O' Guns"—as Allen, Younglove and Lieut. Leroy McGrady were known—nosed over the Travelair mystery speed ship on a rough ground landing with out injury to himself. McGrady's ship was damaged, however.

The stunting trio formerly had as one of its members Dale Jackson, who was replaced by Younglove when the former began his recent endurance flight in St. Louis.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 29.—Despite the crash of one of their members at the Iowa state fair, the "Flying Sons O' Guns" will appear as scheduled at the Minnesota state fair tomorrow, Raymond A. Lee, fair secretary, said today. Lee Allen, the injured pilot, will not appear but a substitute has been obtained, he said.

Smoke hung so heavily over upper Lake Michigan that boats proceeded with extreme caution, with fog horns sounding continuously. The ore boat Ferbert, which ran aground because of the heavy smoke, finally got out in the channel and reported it had reached port at Escanaba, Mich.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Two girls on their first air ride and the pilot with whom they were riding received fatal injuries in an airplane crash here yesterday.

The dead were Rose Zajac, 20, Pearl Jabczynska, 18, and Arthur Devlin, 33.

Grenoble, France, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The Alpine village of Granier was entirely destroyed by fire today. Farmers lost all crops and many head of cattle.

FIRES FLARE AGAIN

After 24 hours of relief from forest fires, two of damaging nature broke out in this district this afternoon, causing a new and serious situation.

Forty men are fighting a 200-acre blaze in the vicinity of Sylvan lake in Cass county. Unless the blaze can be checked many summer cottages will be burned to the ground, lake dwellers said.

Details on a fire on the south shore of Bay lake in Section 32, Bay Lake township, were lacking. District Forest Ranger E. G. Rhodes received a report this afternoon that a fire in a farm house levelled the building and spread to a growth of valuable timber land covering 300 acres. Scores of lake cottages are in the path of the flames, it is reported.

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 29.—Forest fires continued to crackle through widely separated sections of timberland in three north central states today as fire fighters lost all hope of checking the blazes without the aid of rain.

Three fires, one of which was surging its way toward Upona, a small village near here, had grown to such proportions that only a heavy rain and a lessening of the wind would make it possible to bring the flames under control, forest rangers reported.

Another fire, centering at Stephenson, Mich., drove farmers from their homes yesterday. Buildings on one farm were destroyed. A crew of fire fighters were trapped by the blaze but escaped by creeping through a shallow creek bed after soaking their clothing with water.

Smoke hung so heavily over upper Lake Michigan that boats proceeded with extreme caution, with fog horns sounding continuously. The ore boat Ferbert, which ran aground because of the heavy smoke, finally got out in the channel and reported it had reached port at Escanaba, Mich.

SUDDEN MOVE TO PROTECT HEAD OF ARGENTINA

MACHINE GUN DETACHMENTS, POLICE GUARDS POSTED IN BUENOS AIRES

3 SCOUT SHIPS ORDERED TO PROCEED TO THE CAPITAL OF ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Machine gun detachments and police guards around public buildings remained at their posts today while the country awaited an explanation of a sudden and mysterious move to protect President Hipolito Yrigoyen and the members of his government.

It was understood that three scout ships had been ordered to proceed to Buenos Aires from Santiago, Chile, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Troops at the training camp at Campo Mayo were ordered confined to barracks, it was reported here.

Rumors that the government intended to place a military officer at the head of the police appeared well founded when it was learned that Gen. Basilio Pertine, commander of the fourth army division, had left Cordoba for Buenos Aires last night, presumably to take over the duties of chief of police.

There was widespread belief that the precautions, said to be due to a strike of telephone employees but obviously founded on more serious conditions, were caused by a report of a subversive movement in the training camp at Campo Mayo. The report was said today to be false.

The strike of telephone employees as an excuse for machine guns guarding the presidential palace was discounted when the telephone service remained normal. The company reported only 15,000 employees were on strike, or one-tenth of the total number employed.

8-YEAR-OLD GIRL KIDNAPED AND MURDERED

SOUTH BEND, IND. GIRL MARBERINE APPEL, STRANGLED WITH WIRE

CRUELY ATTACKED AND BODY THROWN INTO A VACANT LOT

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The brutal murder of eight-year-old Marberine Appel, who was kidnapped, cruelly attacked, strangled with wire and thrown in a vacant lot, started a search through Indiana and Illinois today for her apparently maniacal abductor.

Authorities believed the child was the victim of a demented man who lured her into an automobile with promises of candy and held her captive for more than 30 hours. When the body was found, only a few blocks from her home, physicians said she had been dead less than an hour.

Neighbors and members of the Appel family advance no motive for the murder except that Marberine, known as the "sweetheart of the neighborhood," had attracted the attentions of a mentally unbalanced man. Her mother, Mrs. Eula Appel, a divorcee, knew of no family enemies who might have been responsible.

Reconstructing the crime, police said they believed the man with whom Marberine disappeared last Wednesday afternoon in an automobile was inspired by a similar kidnapping at Valparaiso, Ind., last week. The ten-year-old girl in that case was held captive for two days but was returned home unharmed.

The body wrapped in a shawl, was found by Mrs. Richard Buschatz, whose home is next to the vacant lot. Marberine's blue dress with a white collar was badly torn, indicating she had struggled against her attacker.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—The barn where 8-year-old Marberine Appel was attacked and murdered was found today by police searching for the man who kidnapped her.

The scene of the attack was only 75 feet from the vacant lot where the child's body was found last night. The barn gave up what police regard as

RIISING HIGH TEMPERATURES AGAIN TODAY

FACTORIES CEASE WORK, FARMING OPERATIONS ARE SUSPENDED

SEVERE THUNDERSTORMS PARTLY FLOOD ABBROATH IN SCOTLAND

By HARRY L. PERCY

London, Aug. 29.—England, with a heat wave death toll of 46 in three days, faced increasingly high temperatures again today.

The thermometer registered two degrees higher than yesterday at corresponding hours, while swimming pools and ice-cream vendors did a big business.

Since stock-brokers appeared in shirt sleeves and high hats because of the burning sun, conventionally clad business men have become a rarity. Even London dock workers went directly from pools to their desks, wearing light clothes over bathing suits.

The Peterboro brick factory ceased work and farming in various districts was suspended.

Two greyhounds, competing at the White City track last night, died and several others collapsed.

Scotland, Wales and Ireland experienced severe thunderstorms which partly flooded Ayr, Scotland, and damaged communication lines.

A severe storm suspended all business in Cowdenbeath, Fifeshire, and the surrounding district. The electric lines were damaged and many shops on the main street were flooded.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Aug. 29.—King George, Queen Mary and the Duke of York were in the midst of a severe electrical storm today at Balmoral Castle. The storm terrorized the population for a wide area around Balmoral.

The Duke of York was unable for some time to get news from Glamis Castle, where their second daughter was born to the duchess last week. A telephone connection had been set up between Balmoral and Glamis but the storm damaged communication lines over the countryside.

Many head of cattle were killed and property damaged considerably.

Paris, Aug. 29.—France continued to swelter today under a burning sun, with the temperature in Paris at a record mark of 104 degrees.

The English sportsman, Jack Filmer Wilson, created a new fashion on the Riviera by appearing at the Monte Carlo casino in a collar-less shirt, worn outside his trousers. He was permitted to enter chiefly because his wife was plunging with great success at the tables, with minimum stakes of 60,000 francs, which attracted the gamblers to watch the play.

To Construct New Men's Dormitory at University

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Bids for construction of a new $315,000 men's dormitory building at the University of Minnesota were received today by H. W. Austin, state purchasing commissioner. Bids were also submitted on the erection of 12 barns and 3 residences on farms owned by the rural credits bureau.

CLEAR SKIES TO GREET STATE FAIR VISITORS

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Clear skies will greet visitors to the opening day's program of the Minnesota state fair tomorrow. The weather bureau predicted today that weather would be "partly cloudy and warmer tonight, Saturday fair."

valuable clues to the killer's identity.

The barn had been boarded up for several months. On the earth floor were splashes of blood and the prints of a child's bare feet. Marberine had been barefoot when she was kidnapped while playing in the street in front of her home Wednesday night.

The picture frame from which the child's assailant had torn the wire with which he strangled her also was found in the barn. On the frame were finger prints by which police hope to identify the slayer when he is caught.

The search for him today extended over northern Indiana and southern Michigan. It was impelled by public indignation over the outrage and by rewards totalling $2,600.

South Bend councilmen pledged $2,000. The county commissioners added $500 and the South Bend News-Times $100.

The councilmen announced that if a technicality arose to prevent payment of the reward out of public funds they would "dig it up out of our own pockets."

Sentiment against the killer ran so high in South Bend that police doubted whether they would be able to save him if taken alive. Residents of the neighborhood where Marberine lived with her mother, Mrs. Eula Appel, a divorcee, and two young brothers, armed themselves with pistols, shot-guns and clubs.

The entire police department concentrated on the hunt, aided by citizens' volunteers.

Other chapters feel that this location, despite the fine financial proposition offered by its owners, was too far north and favored a more central location.

Roosevelt Chapter, Brainerd, said that Ahren's Hill would be the ideal location and so this afternoon a special committee was looking over the site and will talk over the proposition with owners of the hill property. That location is now the property of a group of Northern Pacific shop men.

The Swan lake camp will go for $3,500. It is worth all of $8,000, the Duluth members say.

FLAMING GUN OF MOONSHINER TAKES TWO LIVES

MADDENED MAN SENDS 2 OTHERS TO HOSPITAL AT EUGENE, ORE.

VIC SUTHERLAND, 68, IS BEING TRAILED BY BLOODHOUNDS TODAY

Eugene, Ore., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The flaming revolver of a maddened moonshiner took the lives of two officers and sent two others to a hospital, seriously wounded, in two wild bursts of gunfire in the Marcola hills during the night.

Vic Sutherland, the 68-year-old moonshiner who fired on the officers without warning, was being trailed today by a heavily armed posse aided by bloodhounds. The fugitive is seriously wounded, it was believed, and the hounds were following the blood trail.

The dead were: Joe Saunders, deputy game warden, and Oscar Duley, Eugene policeman. The wounded were: Rodney Roach, deputy sheriff, shot in arm and leg; Lee Brown, deputy sheriff, son of Sheriff Brown, shot in both legs.

Both of the wounded officers will recover, hospital attendants said.

Sutherland opened his deadly fire at Duley, who was on a liquor foray with Deputy Sheriff John Carlisle. Duley was in the act of arresting V. Sutherland, 21, son of the aged moonshiner, who was making a delivery of liquor to a man and woman in a car on the Wendling road a short distance above Marcola.

The old man suddenly rose up from ambush, and fired five shots at Duley, who was on the running board of the car. Duley fell to the road, where he was found by Carlisle, who was a half mile down the road when the shots were fired.

Duley was brought here and died at 3 P. M. The next killing came when three officers went to the house near Marcola where the elder Sutherland lived. They had been there earlier and found no one there. This time they were going after a pillow to provide scent for the bloodhounds.

The door was locked. They battered it in.

Sutherland, behind a partition in the small shack, opened fire.

Two shots pierced Saunders' heart. The others took effect in the arms and legs of Roach and Brown.

From the floor the officers opened fire, and at least one bullet reached its mark, they believe. Sutherland fled out the back door.

Roach and Brown dragged themselves from the building and reached their car. Roach, shot twice, drove the machine back to the place in the road where other members of the posse were waiting. The wounded men were rushed to a hospital here.

MRS. LINDBERGH'S FIRST INTERVIEW—'THE BABY'S FINE'

SUDDEN MOVE TO PROTECT HEAD OF ARGENTINA

MACHINE GUN DETACHMENTS, POLICE GUARDS POSTED IN BUENOS AIRES

3 SCOUT SHIPS ORDERED TO PROCEED TO THE CAPITAL OF ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Machine gun detachments and police guards around public buildings remained at their posts today while the country awaited an explanation of a sudden and mysterious move to protect President Hipolito Yrigoyen and the members of his government.

It was understood that three scout ships had been ordered to proceed to Buenos Aires from Santiago, Chile, and Rio De Janeiro, Brazil. Troops at the training camp at Campo Mayo were ordered confined to barracks, it was reported here.

Rumors that the government intended to place a military officer at the head of the police appeared well founded when it was learned that Gen. Basilio Pertine, commander of the fourth army division, had left Cordoba for Buenos Aires last night, presumably to take over the duties of chief of police.

There was widespread belief that the precautions, said to be due to a strike of telephone employees but obviously founded on more serious conditions, were caused by a report of a subversive movement in the training camp at Campo De Mayo. The report was said today to be false.

The strike of telephone employees as an excuse for machine guns guarding the presidential palace was discounted when the telephone service remained normal. The company reported only 15,000 employees were on strike, or one-tenth of the total number employed.

8-YEAR-OLD GIRL KIDNAPED AND MURDERED

SOUTH BEND, IND., GIRL MARBERINE APPEL, STRANGLED WITH WIRE

CRUELLY ATTACKED AND BODY THROWN INTO A VACANT LOT

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The brutal murder of eight-year-old Marberine Appel, who was kidnapped, cruelly attacked, strangled with wire and thrown in a vacant lot, started a search through Indiana and Illinois today for her apparently maniacal abductor.

Authorities believed the child was the victim of a demented man who lured her into an automobile with promises of candy and held her captive for more than 30 hours. When the body was found, only a few blocks from her home, physicians said she had been dead less than an hour.

Neighbors and members of the Appel family advance no motive for the murder except that Marberine, known as the "sweetheart of the neighborhood," had attracted the attentions of a mentally unbalanced man. Her mother, Mrs. Eula Appel, a divorcee, knew of no family enemies who might have been responsible.

Reconstructing the crime, police said they believed the man with whom Marberine disappeared last Wednesday afternoon in an automobile was inspired by a similar kidnapping at Valparaiso, Ind., last week. The ten-year-old girl in that case was held captive for two days but was returned home unharmed.

The body wrapped in a shawl, was found by Mrs. Richard Buschatz, whose home is next to the vacant lot. Marberine's blue dress with a white collar was badly torn, indicating she had struggled against her attacker.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—The barn where 8-year-old Marberine Appel was attacked and murdered was found today by police searching for the man who kidnapped her.

The scene of the attack was only 75 feet from the vacant lot where the child's body was found last night. The barn gave up what police regard as

RIISING HIGH TEMPERATURES AGAIN TODAY

FACTORIES CEASE WORK, FARMING OPERATIONS ARE SUSPENDED

SEVERE THUNDERSTORMS PARTLY FLOOD ABROATH IN SCOTLAND

By HARRY L. PERCY

London, Aug. 29.—England, with a heat wave death toll of 46 in three days, faced increasingly high temperatures again today.

The thermometer registered two degrees higher than yesterday at corresponding hours, while swimming pools and ice-cream vendors did a big business.

Since stock-brokers appeared in shirt sleeves and high hats because of the burning sun, conventionally clad business men have become a rarity. Even London dock workers went directly from pools to their desks, wearing light clothes over bathing suits.

The Peterboro brick factory ceased work and farming in various districts was suspended.

Two greyhounds, competing at the White City track last night, died and several others collapsed.

Scotland, Wales and Ireland experienced severe thunderstorms which partly flooded Abroath, in Scotland, and damaged communication lines.

A severe storm suspended all business in Cowdenbeath, Fife, and the surrounding district. The electric lines were damaged and many shops on the main street were flooded.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Aug. 29.—King George, Queen Mary and the Duke of York were in the midst of a severe electrical storm today at Balmoral Castle. The storm terrorized the population for a wide area around Balmoral.

The Duke of York was unable for some time to get news from Glamis Castle, where their second daughter was born to the duchess last week. A telephone connection had been set up between Balmoral and Glamis but the storm damaged communication lines over the countryside.

Many head of cattle were killed and property damaged considerably.

Paris, Aug. 29.—France continued to suffer today under a burning sun, with the temperature in Paris at a record mark of 104 degrees.

The English sportsman, Jack Filmer Wilson, created a new fashion on the Riviera by appearing at the Monte Carlo casino in a collarless shirt, worn outside his trousers. He was permitted to enter chiefly because his wife was plunging with great success at the tables, with minimum stakes of 60,000 francs, which attracted the gamblers to watch the play.

To Construct New Men's Dormitory at University

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Bids for construction of a new $315,000 men's dormitory building at the University of Minnesota were received today by H. W. Austin, state purchasing commissioner. Bids were also submitted on the erection of 12 barns and 3 residences on farms owned by the rural credits bureau.

CLEAR SKIES TO GREET STATE FAIR VISITORS

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Clear skies will greet visitors to the opening day's program of the Minnesota state fair tomorrow. The weather bureau predicted today that weather would be "partly cloudy and warmer tonight, Saturday fair."

valuable clues to the killer's identity. The barn had been boarded up for several months. On the earth floor were splashes of blood and the prints of a child's bare feet. Marberine had been barefoot when she was kidnapped while playing in the street in front of her home Wednesday night.

The picture frame from which the child's assailant had torn the wire with which he strangled her also was found in the barn. On the frame were finger prints by which police hope to identify the slayer when he is caught.

The search for him today extended over northern Indiana and southern Michigan. It was impelled by public indignation over the outrage and by rewards totalling $2,600.

South Bend councilmen pledged $2,000. The county commissioners added $500 and the South Bend News-Times $100.

The councilmen announced that if a technicality arose to prevent payment of the reward out of public funds they would "dig it up out of our own pockets."

Sentiment against the killer ran so high in South Bend that police doubted whether they would be able to save him if taken alive. Residents of the neighborhood where Marberine lived with her mother, Mrs. Eula Appel, a divorcee, and two young brothers, armed themselves with pistols, shotguns and clubs.

The entire police department concentrated on the hunt, aided by citizens' volunteers.

Because of his outstanding ability as a student, Adolf Erickson of Brainerd, who finished a month of army life at the Fort Snelling CMT Camp on Friday, was presented with a scholarship to Carleton College at Northfield.

Another Brainerd lad who was given an award at camp was John D. Peterson who was presented with the Commander in Chief's Medal of the Veteran of Foreign Wars because of soldierly qualities and attention to duty.

Peterson has been, throughout the camp, one of the outstanding students, taking a great interest in company affairs and also as a reporter on the staff of the Camp Snelling News, a weekly publication by and for the members of the 1930 camp.

Peterson was also given an award for being the best Basic Course student in Camp. This, in itself, when one takes into consideration the number of students at camp is distinction enough.

KAPPA DELPHIANS ARE REORGANIZED

Kappa Chapter This Spring Completes
Its First Six Years of Delphian Training

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Mrs. E. C. Herzog President, Mrs. F.
N. Russell Vice President, Mrs.
C. A. Ryan Secretary-Treasurer

On Thursday afternoon, August 28, the re-organization meeting of the Kappa Delphian chapter was held in the Chamber of Commerce room. This local chapter is the second group in Brainerd to be granted a charter by the National Delphian society, which has more than three thousand such active units throughout the country. The aid of the national institution in forming these groups is to give the individual an opportunity to practice individual thinking and self expression. For three reasons, the discussion or conversational method is employed, thus eliminating all reading of notes and papers, recitation after memorization and giving everyone an equal part in each meeting.

The Kappa chapter this spring completed its first six years of Delphian training, and during the coming second six years period, members will discuss in their meetings modern nations, international affairs, modern drama, art, fiction and applied arts.

The first regular meeting of the Kappa chapter will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, September 9, at 2:30 o'clock.

The following officers were chosen for the coming year at yesterday afternoon's meeting:

President—Mrs. E. C. Herzog.
Vice President—Mrs. F. N. Russell.
Secretary—Treasurer—Mrs. C. A. Ryan.

Chairman of the Seminar—Mrs. E. J. Sedlock.

Directors of the Seminar—Mrs. W. C. Rasch and Mrs. C. D. McKay.

The Delphian society was established in Chicago a score of years ago with the definite purpose of filling a want and to satisfy the longing of men and women after leaving college or high school for something definite to build an after school cultural structure. In this 20 years it has become systematic plan of education, embracing the world's progress and development of the liberal arts.

Of interest is the fact that 300,000 women of America in the last 20 years have found cultural advantage and pleasure from post school and college studies and contacts. Thousands have completed the course and thousands are now working to that end.

To Fight for Minimum Water Level at Lakes

BRAINERD has started the fight to have minimum water levels established at the lakes in the area, beyond which figure the War Department may not draw water from reservoir lakes. The subject will be discussed, an organization perfected, and a line of campaign mapped out at the afternoon meeting to be held Thursday, September 11, at the Chamber of Commerce. Following the conference which Congressman Harold Knutson held with President C. A. Ryan of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, a call has been sent to some 25 towns in the lake area extending as far east as McGregor, north to Grand Rapids and Bemidji and west to Park Rapids. These towns have been asked to send representatives.

Congressman Knutson will attend to state the facts in the cause of establishing minimum water levels at the lakes. An invitation has been extended to Congressman W. A. Pittenger of Duluth to attend. Invitations have also been addressed to the 10,000 Lakes-Greater Minnesota association, the Izaak Walton League and other organizations. U. S. Senators Schall and Shipstead have been asked to attend.

The Chamber of Commerce has received responses to the news story given prominent position in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch which called attention to the organization meeting set for September 11. Pine River will be represented. A resort man near Brainerd said he would come to the meeting with a petition signed by 300.

In his letter to various communities, President C. A. Ryan of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce has used this form, and he brings out essential points of the weighty question:

"Everyone in the north central Minnesota lake district is or should be vitally interested in the water levels of our lakes. The recent heavy withdrawal of water from the several reservoir systems by the War Department is cause for serious alarm. What is of far more importance is the fact that the proposed nine-foot channel in the lower Mississippi may demand far more water than the present channel.

"To the many thousands of persons in our district who rely in a substantial measure upon the tourist business, it is of vital importance that our far-famed lakes be preserved intact. Economically, it would appear to be of far greater merit that the annual tourist business now approaching the one hundred million dollar mark be safeguarded than it would to subsidize with the taxpayers' money a desultory water traffic in the lower Mississippi.

"The fact is, however, that Congress has already authorized the nine-foot channel and, should the necessary appropriation be made at the December session, it will soon become a reality and in its wake may arise an urgent demand for more water to fill it. If so, our lakes will suffer. So also will our fish and other wild life. When the channel is dug it will be too late to complain. If we are interested in conserving the attractions of this beautiful, wealth-producing region against such spoliation, it appears that we must act at once, in concert and with energy.

"With this in mind, this letter is being addressed to the various communities, civic bodies and organizations in the north central Minnesota lake district. A meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Brainerd on September 11, 1930, at 2:30 p. m. to discuss the situation confronting us, and to take such action as may appear essential to carry on the fight which is, by all signs, necessary. Will you be so kind as to see that one or more representatives are present at this meeting? And will you also advise me of the number you intend to send so we may make the necessary arrangements?

Trusting that you will appreciate the importance of the problem and lend your efforts to its early and effective solution, I beg to remain, yours sincerely, C. A. Ryan, President."

Answering "Outside" Fire Calls

SOME discussion has arisen in Nisswa about a call made for the Brainerd Fire Department shortly after the filling station blew up.

Frank Fuller, chief of the Brainerd Fire Department, states that he got a call from Mrs. Tony Bohlke, from their hotel at Nisswa. She said the filling station was on fire and that the town needed help badly.

Mr. Fuller, following the law laid down by the Brainerd City Council, asked her if she or any other responsible party in Nisswa would guarantee the charges if the department came.

She said she would see about it and while he held the wire, she had a conference with some one, and then returned to the telephone stating that there was no occasion for the department to come as it could not do anything anyway.

Fire Chief Fuller states the Fire Department will help any town within a reasonable distance of Brainerd, if some one in authority will guarantee the charges. Fire calls have been answered in the past at Pine River and Pillager and paid for. Garrison put in a call two years ago but up to date has not paid the necessary expense and the State Public Examiner's Department, which recently investigated the city's books, called attention to it and said it should be collected.

The rules of the City Council of Brainerd provide a table of charges for outside calls, and the Fire Chief can make no deviation from these rules or the procedure to be followed before he can answer a call. One dollar per mile is charged for distance traversed. For the equipment when pumping, $25 an hour. For the equipment when not pumping, $5 an hour. One dollar per hour per man from the time the engine house is left to returning to same.

The President of the Village Board of Pillager recently perfected a standing agreement with the Brainerd Fire Department as to answering calls from their village. Nisswa authorities can confer in like manner and make the necessary arrangements. Pillager has some fire equipment and a number of volunteers, but Nisswa seems to have little if any provision to fight fires.

Nisswa, like Pillager and other towns in the vicinity of Brainerd, should make arrangements by persons properly authorized to provide for combating fire and other contingencies.

How often have we heard the expression "black on white." The 1931 license plates will reverse the procedure for they will be white letters and black background. One wonders if the various states have a meeting so as not to duplicate colors and designs of their license plates.

Frank B. (Dad) Carey's talk this morning was one of the highlights of the conference. Mr. Carey is a member of the Grand Council, holding the highest office accorded by the DeMolays in the state. His home is at Duluth.

His interesting speech is printed in part as follows:

DeMolay's Place in Community Life

DeMolay, although less than twelve years old, has established itself very firmly as a part of our American community life. DeMolay is today a militant and character-building organization, having for its purpose the up-building of a better citizenship in the years to come. Today, character-building is the supreme objective of DeMolay. Its high principles, its beautiful and impressive ritual, and the appeal which it makes to the imagination of the boy, with its spirit of service to home, city, state, and national life, has won for itself a permanent place in the hearts of all who believe in good citizenship, and the proper training of our young manhood, to accept those responsibilities, when they arrive at the manhood years of life.

The Order of DeMolay has gained this enviable position. This is due to those who have been loyal and enthusiastic in the work, and who, by their faithfulness to the responsibilities placed upon them, have been able to overcome a great many difficulties which lay in the way, and are now in a position to see that through the sacrifices they have made, the Order of DeMolay is firmly established in the life and heart of each and every community where we find a DeMolay chapter. Without being in the least degree pessimistic, we who have been watching the trend of the times can not deny that youthful crime is one of the most deplorable problems confronting the nation today. We can not overlook these existing conditions without the greatest concern, and it is our duty, and the duty of all good citizens, to do all in our power to correct these conditions. I wish to state at this time, without fear of contradiction, that the Order of DeMolay is the greatest character-building organization in the country today, for those between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years. And when we face the fact that a large percentage of crimes committed today is committed by boys of DeMolay age, we realize that there is a problem confronting us.

In studying and making investigations along the line of juvenile crime, we are appalled to find that these young men come not from the slums, nor from the homes where they do not receive proper training, that they have, in many cases, plunged into the maelstrom of crime, because they themselves could not or would not resist the temptation, when it came to them.

It is through such an organization as the Order of DeMolay that we have limitless opportunities for service to the youth of our nation, and through the youth of the nation, to the nation itself. As I have stated before, the supreme purpose of DeMolay is to build character, and today it stands out as an answer to the call which has come, and as such an answer, it must be made more effective.

Since its organization, the Order of DeMolay has been financed entirely by its own membership. But it can not become more effective, and answer this greater call to service, unless it receives adequate support from those in each community who support other worthy organizations, with similar purposes, whose resources are vastly greater than that of DeMolay. Again, let me repeat that up to the present time, the membership of the Order of DeMolay has and is now bearing its entire financial burden. After very careful consideration, your Grand Council came to the conclusion that it is grossly unjust that this entire financial burden should be borne by the DeMolays themselves. No other movement of a similar character lays this heavy and unfair burden solely upon its membership.

The pioneer stage of DeMolays has passed. The "novelty" era, which existed during the early years of the Order, when it was something distinctly new, has passed. The formative period has also gone by. The problems of its first organization have also passed, and those are not the problems which it must meet today. All other national youth organizations have from their inception relied for their support upon the assistance of generous men and women. Your Grand Council, after very careful consideration and investigation, firmly believes that DeMolay should follow these suggestions, in order to lift at least a portion of the financial load from its members, leaving the Chapters free to devote more of their always limited funds to their local needs.

Your Grand Council, therefore, has formulated a plan to raise a million dollar fund, the principal to be invested in the very best of securities, the interest therefrom to be used in carrying out the development work of the Order of DeMolay.

At the present time, twenty-three persons comprise the entire headquarters staff, including executive department heads, clerks and stenographers. This places a burden which is too heavy upon the staff. Through this heavy burden, the services of the executive staff is restricted. Active campaigns for securing these funds have been started in several jurisdictions. During the month of June, Brother Frank L. Bynum, who is in charge of this work for the Grand Council, spent several days in Duluth. After going into the matter very carefully, we felt that it would be better not to start a campaign in Minnesota at the present time. Realizing the present conditions, and other jurisdictions being eager to have the campaign started, Minnesota will be left until a later date.

As your Active Member of the Grand Council, and one who is vitally interested in its success, and believing that I see the need of such a movement, I urge each one of you, when the time comes, to aid and assist us in raising our quota. The Order of DeMolay must actively concern itself with the ever-present, ever-changing social and personal problems affecting our rising young manhood. If it does not, it will be superseded by other movements that are more alert and resourceful.

Doings of Your Active Member

At this time, I believe it is proper to call your attention to some of the activities of your Active Member of the Grand Council, since we last met in conclave at Fairmont. During the past year, and including the trip to Fairmont, to attend the conclave held there, I have made twenty-six trips from Duluth, and have visited, during that time, twenty of the thirty-one chapters in the state.

I have followed the practice which I established three years ago, in the matter of conferring the Legion of Honor degree in the Chapter of the designate. A number of the Active Members of the Grand Council have all of those who have been elected to the Legion of Honor come to the state conclave and confer the degree upon all of them at the same time. However, I feel that the designate to receive the Legion of Honor degree should receive it in his own Chapter; and since it is a public meeting, it will add interest to DeMolay work in that particular place. All of the twenty-six elected to receive this degree have received it during the past few weeks. Brother Douglas McWhinney of Hibbing Chapter, being in California at the present time, received the degree with a class in San Francisco, the degree being conferred by Brother Jesse Whited, Active Member of the Grand Council in Northern California and Nevada.

Most of the Chapters close to Duluth have been visited twice during the year. I also visited Chisholm and Rush City, conferring with the organization of a DeMolay Chapter in each place. I do not know whether or not these chapters will be organized. During the past year, your Active Member has traveled in the state of Minnesota 6,003 miles and has met and spoken to over 5,000 people. There are some chapters which I have not yet visited, but sincerely hope that arrangements can be made for a visit during the coming year.

There are many other duties which your Active Member is called upon to perform. There are many reports to make out to the Grand Council, and the correspondence between the Grand Scribe and myself is considerable. Most of the chapters have responded promptly to any correspondence which I have sent them, although there are two or three chapters which have not answered any letter which has been sent to them. As a rule, when I write to a chapter, I write both to the Scribe of the chapter, and the Chairman of the Advisory Council, unless a letter to the Chairman of the Advisory Council is all that is necessary. I might, at this time, call your attention to the fact that it is very essential that I have the proper name of both Scribe and Chairman of the Advisory Council. If, however, I should write to one of you and you are not a member of the Council, or Scribe, I wish you would turn the correspondence over to the proper person.

State Athletics

At this time I wish to publicly thank Brother Dwight O. Thomson, of Minneapolis Chapter, for the very excellent manner in which he conducted the State Basketball Tournament, held last winter. I am sure that it would have been impossible to hold this tournament, if it had not been for the untiring efforts of Brother Thomson, and his assistant, Brother Art Stedt. I was very much pleased with the manner in which the tournament was carried out. Only the best reports came to me.

While it was impossible for me to be present at that time, and I was criticized by some for not being there, however, I wish to compliment at this time every DeMolay who took part, and the way in which he carried himself during the tournament.

I am going to suggest that the State be divided into districts, and that a district tournament be held, and that the winners in the district tournaments then play for the State Championship at some central place. By doing so, more Chapters will have an opportunity to participate, and there will be an opportunity to win at least a district Championship, if not a State Championship. If this plan is carried out, it will mean that we must have the cooperation of every Chapter, and that every Chapter enter at least the district tournament. Let us remember that, as I have stated many times, the more activities we engage in, the more interest we will raise, and DeMolay will become better known.

Inter-Chapter Visitation

Let me recommend to each one of you the value which can be gained from Inter-Chapter Visitation. One of the best ways to become acquainted with one another, and to cement more firmly the fraternal spirit, which should exist between all DeMolays, is gained through visitations made by one Chapter to another.

There are a few Chapters in the State which have carried on this fraternal visitation for the last two or three years, and I am satisfied that the fraternal spirit which exists between the DeMolays of these Chapters is the result of these visitations. In one of our eastern jurisdictions, one of the Chapters has what is called its Flying Squad. This Squad is made up of 15 or 20 DeMolays, and it is their purpose to visit as many Chapters as possible each year. From the information which I have received, there are generally three or four carloads of DeMolays from this Chapter, which visit other Chapters in the State. I believe such a plan as this would result in much good in Minnesota. I realize that our State is large, and our distance is great, and sometimes it necessitates a drive of two or three hundred miles to visit a Chapter. While it might not be possible for so large a number as 15 or 20 to make the visit, five or six could do so, and I am satisfied that the Chapters visited would be very glad to entertain the visitors over night, if necessary.

Let us remember that we are all DeMolays; we are all working for the same purpose; each one of us do not always do the same thing in the same way, and it is through of what others are doing. We find out new ways and better ways to do a thing, than possibly the way in which we have been doing it.

Each Chapter in Minnesota should strive to be the best, and let me urge each one of you to make a very special effort, through the coming year, to improve in your ritualistic work. In choosing DeMolays for the various positions, choose them for their ability. In visiting Chapters, I have found most excellent work done by some of the smallest Chapters. Again, I have seen poor work done in some of the larger Chapters. Let us spread the fraternal spirit of DeMolay by visitations.

Permanent State Camp

There is a great need today in Minnesota of a permanent state camp. At the Conclave held in Fairmont, a fund was started, in a very small way, and really in fun at first, toward the raising of a permanent fund, to be used for the purchase of a permanent DeMolay State Camp. I am sure that those cities which have so ably in the past, and Brainerd at the present time, realize the difficulties that arise when they prepare for the entertainment of the State Conclave. Many problems come up at the last moment, which seem unsolvable, and which cause those who are undertaking the entertainment a great deal of worry.

Brother Ivan H. Northfield, one of the advisors of the Duluth Chapter, is greatly interested in this matter, and will, at the proper time, submit a proposition to the advisors, and also to the Conclave, relative to the obtaining, in the near future, of a State Camp.

Conclusion

In closing, may I express the hope that each one of us who are here assembled will grasp a greater vision of what DeMolay really means, and the opportunities which it offers for service. May we go from this Conclave with a greater desire to put into practice in our daily lives, whether we be Active DeMolays, Legionnaires, members of the Alumni, or advisors, the great precepts which DeMolay teaches us. May those of us who are leading in this great work, as members of an advisory council, or of a sponsoring body, be impressed with this great opportunity for real, genuine service. My fellow advisors, opportunity is knocking at our door. Let us open the door, and bid it welcome. Let us be willing to accept these opportunities, and then, and deny ourselves a little personal pleasure, if we are able to aid these young men to become better citizens than they might be, if they had not been under our supervision and care.

As the years go by, there will be a greater challenge for service. The older DeMolay becomes, the greater its membership becomes, newer and greater problems will arise. Fellow advisors, when this Conclave comes to an end, and we bid each other goodbye, and go back to our homes and Chapters, may we have a new vision of what this great character-building organization means. May we be able to strengthen the foundation which is already laid, so what may be done in the future, may stand as a monument to our untiring service.

Fellow DeMolays, may each one of

To Fight for Minimum Water Level at Lakes

BRAINERD has started the fight to have minimum water levels established at the lakes in the area, beyond which figure the War Department may not draw water from reservoir lakes. The subject will be discussed, an organization perfected, and a line of campaign mapped out at the afternoon meeting to be held Thursday, September 11, at the Chamber of Commerce. Following the conference which Congressman Harold Knutson held with President C. A. Ryan of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, a call has been sent to some 25 towns in the lake area extending as far east as McGregor, north to Grand Rapids and Bemidji and west to Park Rapids. These towns have been asked to send representatives.

Congressman Knutson will attend to state the facts in the cause of establishing minimum water levels at the lakes. An invitation has been extended to Congressman W. A. Pittenger of Duluth to attend. Invitations have also been addressed to the 10,000 Lakes-Greater Minnesota association, the Izaak Walton League and other organizations. U. S. Senators Schall and Shipstead have been asked to attend.

The Chamber of Commerce has received responses to the news story given prominent position in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch which called attention to the organization meeting set for September 11. Pine River will be represented. A resort man near Brainerd said he would come to the meeting with a petition signed by 300.

In his letter to various communities, President C. A. Ryan of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce has used this form, and he brings out essential points of the weighty question:

"Everyone in the north central Minnesota lake district is or should be vitally interested in the water levels of our lakes. The recent heavy withdrawal of water from the several reservoir systems by the War Department is cause for serious alarm. What is of far more importance is the fact that the proposed nine-foot channel in the lower Mississippi may demand far more water than the present channel.

"To the many thousands of persons in our district who rely in a substantial measure upon the tourist business, it is of vital importance that our far-famed lakes be preserved intact. Economically, it would appear to be of far greater merit that the annual tourist business now approaching the one hundred million dollar mark be safeguarded than it would to subsidize with the taxpayers' money a desultory water traffic in the lower Mississippi.

"The fact is, however, that Congress has already authorized the nine-foot channel and, should the necessary appropriation be made at the December session, it will soon become a reality and in its wake may arise an urgent demand for more water to fill it. If so, our lakes will suffer. So also will our fish and other wild life. When the channel is dug it will be too late to complain. If we are interested in conserving the attractions of this beautiful, wealth-producing region against such spoliation, it appears that we must act at once, in concert and with energy.

"With this in mind, this letter is being addressed to the various communities, civic bodies and organizations in the north central Minnesota lake district. A meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Brainerd on September 11, 1930, at 2:30 p. m. to discuss the situation confronting us, and to take such action as may appear essential to carry on the fight which is, by all signs, necessary. Will you be so kind as to see that one or more representatives are present at this meeting? And will you also advise me of the number you intend to send so we may make the necessary arrangements?

Trusting that you will appreciate the importance of the problem and lend your efforts to its early and effective solution, I beg to remain, yours sincerely, C. A. Ryan, President."

Answering "Outside" Fire Calls

SOME discussion has arisen in Nisswa about a call made for the Brainerd Fire Department shortly after the filling station blew up.

Frank Fuller, chief of the Brainerd Fire Department, states that he got a call from Mrs. Tony Bohlke, from their hotel at Nisswa. She said the filling station was on fire and that the town needed help badly.

Mr. Fuller, following the law laid down by the Brainerd City Council, asked her if she or any other responsible party in Nisswa would guarantee the charges if the department came.

She said she would see about it and while he held the wire, she had a conference with some one, and then returned to the telephone stating that there was no occasion for the department to come as it could not do anything anyway.

Fire Chief Fuller states the Fire Department will help any town within a reasonable distance of Brainerd, if some one in authority will guarantee the charges. Fire calls have been answered in the past at Pine River and Pillager and paid for. Garrison put in a call two years ago but up to date has not paid the necessary expense and the State Public Examiner's Department, which recently investigated the city's books, called attention to it and said it should be collected.

The rules of the City Council of Brainerd provide a table of charges for outside calls, and the Fire Chief can make no deviation from these rules or the procedure to be followed before he can answer a call. One dollar per mile is charged for distance traversed. For the equipment when pumping, $25 an hour. For the equipment when not pumping, $5 an hour. One dollar per hour per man from the time the engine house is left to returning to same.

The President of the Village Board of Pillager recently perfected a standing agreement with the Brainerd Fire Department as to answering calls from their village. Nisswa authorities can confer in like manner and make the necessary arrangements. Pillager has some fire equipment and a number of volunteers, but Nisswa seems to have little if any provision to fight fires.

Nisswa, like Pillager and other towns in the vicinity of Brainerd, should make arrangements by persons properly authorized to provide for combatting fire and other contingencies.

How often have we heard the expression "black on white?" The 1931 license plates will reverse the procedure for they will be white letters and black background. One wonders if the various states have a meeting so as not to duplicate colors and designs of their license plates.

Frank B. (Dad) Carey's talk this morning was one of the highlights of the conference. Mr. Carey is a member of the Grand Council, holding the highest office accorded by the DeMolays in the state. His home is at Duluth.

His interesting speech is printed in part as follows:

DeMolay's Place in Community Life

DeMolay, although less than twelve years old, has established itself very firmly as a part of our American community life. DeMolay is today a militant and character-building organization, having for its purpose the upbuilding of a better citizenship in the years to come. Today, character-building is the supreme objective of DeMolay. Its high principles, its beautiful and impressive ritual, and the appeal which it makes to the imagination of the boy, with its spirit of service to home, city, state, and national life, has won for itself a permanent place in the hearts of all who believe in good citizenship, and the proper training of our young manhood, to accept those responsibilities when they arrive at the manhood years of life.

The Order of DeMolay has gained this enviable position. This is due to those who have been loyal and enthusiastic in the work, and who, by their faithfulness to the responsibilities placed upon them, have been able to overcome a great many difficulties in the way, and are now in a position to see that through the sacrifices they have made, the Order of DeMolay is firmly established in the life and heart of each and every community where we find a DeMolay chapter.

Without being in the least degree pessimistic, we who have been watching the trend of the times can not deny that youthful crime is one of the most deplorable problems confronting the nation today. We can not overlook these existing conditions without the greatest concern, and it is our duty, and the duty of all good citizens, to do all in our power to correct these conditions. I wish to state at this time, without fear of contradiction, that the Order of DeMolay is the greatest character-building organization in the country today. For those between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years. And when we face the fact that a large percentage of crimes committed today is committed by boys of DeMolay age, we realize that there is a problem confronting us.

In studying and making investigations along the line of juvenile crime, we are appalled to find that these young men come not from the slums, nor from the homes where they do not receive proper training, that they are not submerged, but that they have, in many cases, plunged into the maelstrom of crime, because they themselves could not or would not resist the temptation when it came to them.

It is through such an organization as the Order of DeMolay that we have limitless opportunities for service to the youth of our nation, and through the youth of the nation, to the nation itself. As I have stated before, the supreme purpose of DeMolay is to build character, and today it stands out as an answer to the call which has come, and as such an answer, it must be made more effective.

Since its organization, the Order of DeMolay has been financed entirely by its own membership. But it can not become more effective, and answer this greater call to service, unless it receives adequate support from those in each community who support other worthy organizations, with similar purposes, whose resources are vastly greater than that of DeMolay. Again, let me repeat that up to the present time, the membership of the Order of DeMolay has and is now bearing its entire financial burden. After very careful consideration, your Grand Council came to the conclusion that it is grossly unjust that this entire financial burden should be borne by the DeMolays themselves. No other movement of a similar character lays this heavy and unfair burden solely upon its membership.

The pioneer stage of DeMolays has passed. The "novelty" era, which existed during the early years of the Order, when it was something distinctly new, has passed. The formative period has also gone by. The problems of its first organization have also passed, and those are not the problems which it must meet today. All other national youth organizations have from their inception relied for their support upon the assistance of generous men and women. Your Grand Council, after very careful consideration and investigation, firmly believes that DeMolay should follow these suggestions, in order to lift at least a portion of the financial load from its members, leaving the Chapters free to devote more of their always limited funds to their local needs. Your Grand Council, therefore, has formulated a plan to raise a million dollar fund, the principal to be invested in the very best of securities, the interest therefrom to be used in carrying out the development work of the Order of DeMolay.

At the present time, twenty-three persons comprise the entire headquarters staff, including executive department heads, clerks and stenographers. This places a burden which is too heavy upon the staff. Through this heavy burden, the efficiency of the executive staff is restricted. Active campaigns for securing these funds have been started in several jurisdictions. During the month of June, Brother Frank L. Bynum, who is in charge of this work for the Grand Council, spent several days in Duluth. After going into the matter very carefully, we felt that it would be better not to start a campaign in Minnesota at the present time. Realizing the present conditions, and other jurisdictions being eager to have the campaign started, Minnesota will be left until a later date.

As your Active Member of the Grand Council, and one who is vitally interested in its success, and believing that I see the need of such a movement, I urge each one of you, when the time comes, to aid and assist us in raising our quota. The Order of DeMolay must actively concern itself with the ever-present, ever-changing social and personal problems affecting our rising young manhood. If it does not, it will be superseded by other movements that are more alert and resourceful.

Doings of Your Active Member

At this time, I believe it is proper to call your attention to some of the activities of your Active Member of the Grand Council, since we last met in conclave at Fairmont. During the past year, and including the trip to Fairmont, to attend the conclave held there, I have made twenty-six trips from Duluth, and have visited, during that time, twenty of the thirty-one chapters in the state.

I have followed the practice which I established three years ago, in the matter of conferring the Legion of Honor degree in the Chapter of the designate. A number of the Active Members of the Grand Council have all of those who have been elected to the Legion of Honor come to the state conclave and confer the degree upon all of them at the same time. However, I feel that the designate to receive the Legion of Honor degree should receive it in his own Chapter; and since it is a public meeting, it will add interest to DeMolay work in that particular place. All of the twenty-six elected to receive this degree have received it during the past few weeks. Brother Douglas McWhinney of Hibbing Chapter, being in California at the present time, received the degree with a class in San Francisco, the degree being conferred by Brother Jesse Whited, Active Member of the Grand Council in Northern California and Nevada.

Most of the Chapters close to Duluth have been visited twice during the year. I also visited Chisholm and Rush City, conferring with the Masters in each place, regarding the organization of a DeMolay Chapter in each place. I do not know whether or not these chapters will be organized. During the past year, your Active Member has traveled in the state of Minnesota 6,000 miles and has met and spoken to over 5,000 people. There are some chapters which I have not yet visited, but sincerely hope that arrangements can be made for a visit during the coming year.

There are many other duties which your Active Member is called upon to perform. There are many reports to make out to the Grand Council, and the correspondence between the Grand Scribe and myself is considerable. Most of the chapters have responded promptly to any correspondence which I have sent them, although there are two or three chapters which have not answered any letter which has been sent to them. As a rule, when I write to a chapter, I write both to the Scribe of the chapter, and the Chairman of the Advisory Council, unless a letter to the Chairman of the Advisory Council is all that is necessary. I might, at this time, call your attention to the fact that it is very essential that I have the proper name of both Scribe and Chairman of the Advisory Council. If, however, I should write to one of you and you are not a member of the Council, or Scribe, I wish you would turn the correspondence over to the proper person.

State Athletics

At this time, I wish to publicly thank Brother Dwight O. Thomson, of Minneapolis Chapter, for the very excellent manner in which he conducted the State Basketball Tournament, held last winter. I am sure that it would have been impossible to hold this tournament, if it had not been for the untiring efforts of Brother Thomson, and his assistant, Brother Art Stedt. I was very much pleased with the manner in which the tournament was carried out. Only the best reports came to me.

While it was impossible for me to be present at that time, and I was criticized by some for not being there, however, I wish to compliment at this time every DeMolay who took part, and the way in which he carried himself during the tournament.

I am going to suggest that the State be divided into districts, and that a district tournament be held, and that the winners in the district tournaments then play for the State Championship at some central place. By doing so, more Chapters will have an opportunity to participate, and there will be an opportunity to win at least a district Championship, if not a State Championship. If this plan is carried out, it will mean that we must have the cooperation of every Chapter, and that every Chapter enter at least the district tournament. Let us remember that, as I have stated many times, the more activities we engage in, the more interest we will raise, and DeMolay will become better known.

Inter-Chapter Visitation

Let me recommend to each one of you the value which can be gained from Inter-Chapter Visitation. One of the best ways to become acquainted with one another, and to cement more firmly the fraternal spirit, which should exist between all DeMolays, is gained through visitations made by one Chapter to another.

There are a few Chapters in the State which have carried on this fraternal visitation for the last two or three years, and I am satisfied that the fraternal spirit which exists between the DeMolays of these Chapters is the result of these visitations. In one of our eastern jurisdictions, one of the Chapters has what is called its Flying Squad. This Squad is made up of 15 boys, and it is their duty to visit as many Chapters as possible each year. From the information which I have received, there are generally three or four carloads of DeMolays from this Chapter, which visit other Chapters in the State. I believe such a plan as this would result in much good in Minnesota. I realize that our State is large, and our distance is great, and sometimes it necessitates a drive of two or three hundred miles to visit a Chapter. While it might not be possible for so large a number as 15 or 20 to make the visit, five or six could do so, and I am satisfied that the Chapters visited would be very glad to entertain the visitors over night, if necessary.

Let us remember that we are all DeMolays; we are all working for the same purpose; each one of us do not always do the same thing in the same way, and it is through this visitation that we gain knowledge of what others are doing. We find out new ways and better ways to do a thing, than possibly the way in which we have been doing it.

Each Chapter in Minnesota should strive to be the best, and let me urge each one of you to make a very special effort, through the coming year, to improve in your ritualistic work. In choosing DeMolays for the various positions, choose them for their ability. In visiting Chapters, I have found most excellent work done by some of the smallest Chapters. Again, I have seen poor work done in some of the larger Chapters. Let us spread the fraternal spirit of DeMolay by visitations.

Permanent State Camp

There is a great need today in Minnesota of a permanent state camp. At the Conclave held in Fairmont, a fund was started, in a very small way, and really in fun at first, toward the raising of a permanent fund, to be used for the purchase of a permanent DeMolay State Camp. I am sure that those cities which have so ably in the past, and Brainerd at the present time, realize the difficulties that arise when they prepare for the entertainment of a State Conclave. Many problems come up at the last moment, which seem unworkable, and which cause those who are undertaking the entertainment a great deal of worry.

Brother Ivan H. Northfield, one of the advisors of the Duluth Chapter, is greatly interested in this matter, and will, at the proper time, submit a proposition to the advisors, and also to the Conclave, relative to the obtaining, in the near future, of a State Camp.

Conclusion

In closing, may I express the hope that each one of us who are here assembled will grasp a greater vision of what DeMolay really means, and the opportunities which it offers for service. May we go from this Conclave with a greater desire to put into practice in our daily lives, whether we be Active DeMolays, Legionnaires, members of the Alumni, or advisors, the great precepts which DeMolay teaches us. May those of us who are leading in this great work, as members of an advisory council, or of a sponsoring body, be impressed with this great opportunity for real, genuine service. My fellow advisors, opportunity is knocking at our door. Let us open the door, and bid it welcome. Let us be willing to accept these opportunities, and willing to make a sacrifice now and then, and deny ourselves a little personal pleasure, if we are able to aid these young men to become better citizens than they might be, if they had not been under our supervision and care.

As the years go by, there will be a greater challenge for service. The older DeMolay becomes, the greater its membership becomes, newer and greater problems will arise. Fellow advisors, when this Conclave comes to an end, and we bid each other goodbye, and go back to our homes and Chapters, may we have a new vision of what this great character-building organization means. May we be able to strengthen the foundation which is already laid, so what may be done in the future, may stand as a monument to our untiring service.

Fellow DeMolays, may each one of

May you realize that you are one of this great body of young men, bound together by the most sacred ties, assuming the same vows, making the same pledges, kneeling at the same altar, before which you made a solemn promise before God and man, that you would perform all the duties of a true citizen, that your lives will be clean, that you will practice, in private and in public, the teachings of your Order. Let us remember that DeMolay means service—service to God, to our country, to our home. Let us be willing, therefore, to serve in the best way possible our community, wherever it may be. Let us urge

CARDINALS MAY BE TEAM CUBS MUST BEAT FOR PENNANT

ST. LOUIS SQUAD HAS RECORD OF 9 STRAIGHT WINS

ACHIEVED 17 VICTORIES OUT OF THEIR LAST 21 STARTS MADE

TODAY ARE WITHIN 1 PERCENTAGE POINT OF THIRD-PLACE GIANTS

(By United Press)
Gaby Street's St. Louis Cardinals may be the team Chicago must beat for the pennant.

The Cards, with a record of nine straight wins and 17 victories out of their last 21 starts, today were within one percentage point of the third-place Giants, only 5 1/2 games behind the Cubs. St. Louis, after a miserable start, began their present drive on Aug. 9. The Cards knocked the Robins out of first place and continued their success after New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Cards climaxed their drive on Thursday by taking an 8 to 7 20-inning tussle from the Cubs. Trailing by 0-5 when they went to bat in the seventh inning, the Cubs touched Grimes for three runs and added two tying runs in the eighth off Lindsey. Grimes' successor, the clubs then reeled off six scoreless innings. The Cards got two in the 15th only to have the Cubs tie the score in their half. Douthitt's single, Adams' infield out and High's single gave the Cards the winning run in the 20th.

The Brooklyn Robins continued their practice of ruining New York's pennant hopes by making it two straight over the Giants, winning 8 to 7. A big sixth inning when they scored seven runs gave the Robins the game and second place. Vance went the route on the mound for Brooklyn. The Pittsburgh Pirates took both ends of a double-header from the Cincinnati Reds, 16 to 12 and 11 to 2. The Pirates hit well in both games, getting 16 safeties in the opener and 14 in the nightcap.

Philadelphia and Boston staged a batting orgy with the Phillies coming out on top, 13 to 10. Walter Berger, Boston outfielder, got his 31st home run of the season during the game.

Wes Ferrell featured Friday's American League games. The big Cleveland right-hander scored his 23rd win of the year as his mates slammed out a 10 to 5 win over the Chicago White Sox. Ferrell did quite a bit of hitting himself, getting a triple, double and single.

Horace Lisenbee bested George Earnshaw in a pitching battle as the Boston Red Sox beat the leading Philadelphia Athletics, 2 to 1. Fox's error in the seventh allowed the winning runs to cross the plate. Lisenbee allowed but six hits.

The Washington Senators picked up a game on the A's and strengthened their hold on second place by defeating the New York Yankees, 6 to 3. Washington scored five runs in the fifth inning.

The St. Louis Browns scored an easy 9 to 1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Blaeholder pitched six innings and gave up but four hits. Kimsey then took up the burden and held the Tigers hitless the rest of the way. Dale Alexander saved the Tigers a shutout with a home run.

PIPE MEN SCORE 3 IN LAST TO WIN

DEFEAT BOILERMAKERS 6 AND 5 IN CLOSE D-BALL SHOP LEAGUE GAME

In a fast diamondball game last evening the Pipe Shops defeated the Boilermakers in the N. P. Shops League, 6 to 5, at the water tower grounds, after the Boilermakers held the lead up to the last half of the seventh.

Trailing, the Pipe Shops men crossed three men over the plate in the last half of the seventh to win. In that frame Van Walk, first man up, flied out to Elvig; Robil, Erdman, pinch-hitters, got on base on hits. Walstro made first on an error and after the next hitter died Gabjou doubled, tying the score, while Fogelstrom brought in the winning run.

Larson, Elvig and Poroth did some fine fielding for the Boilermakers. Rofidal on the mound kept his hits well scattered, striking out six men.

Golewin was on the mound for the Pipe Shops, striking out seven. Goedderz and Schwendeman did good work behind the bat. Swanson and Heikinen acted as umpires.

PENNANT HOPES OF CHICAGO CUBS WEAKEN TODAY

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Pennant hopes of the Chicago Cubs were weakened today with the announcement that Pitchers Charlie Root and Fred Blake, two of Manager McCarthy's "big four," will be lost to the club for at least ten days.

Root sprained a muscle in his pitching arm during Wednesday's game with Pittsburgh and Blake injured his back yesterday in attempting to field a bunt during the Cubs' game with St. Louis.

ORDER YACHTS RETURNED TO THE SHIPYARDS

FOURTH ONE, HAROLD S. VANDERBILT, TO GUARD THE AMERICA'S CUP

WILL SAIL HIS ENTERPRISE AGAINST SIR THOMAS LIP-TON'S SHAMROCK V
By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE

Newport, R. I., Aug. 29.—Three groups of disappointed millionaire yachtsmen have packed their bags and ordered their million dollar yachts back to the shipyards, while a fourth, Harold S. Vanderbilt, expert pilot and expert bridge player, will have the honor of trying to keep the America's Cup in the United States against the sportsmanlike attempt of Sir Thomas Lipton.

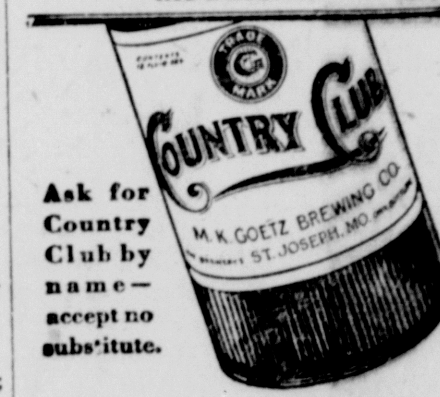

Weetamco, backed by J. P. Morgan; Yankee, piloted by Charles Francis Adams, and Whirlwind, operated by Landon K. Thorne, are all under tow back to the bone yard, while Enterprise today is taking on extra polishing in Newport harbor. Enterprise, a beautiful sloop with a shining metal mast, may not be able to beat Shamrock, but there is no question she was the fastest of the 1930 yachts turned out by any American shipyard. She licked Weetamco in a breeze, and she trimmed Yankee in a calm.

Yankee's ownership is the only crowd to register dignified surprise at the committee's selection of Enterprise. Yankee's managers say that if she had been given time to stretch her manifestly poor fitting sails, she would have overcome her tendency to dawdle behind the others in light weather. However, the Boston sloop already has tried on 42 sails, none of which fitted.

The town of Newport is disgusted and disgruntled with the calling off of more elimination trials. It had counted on another week of high prices to make up for the winter time when fishing is not so good, and the end of the series was sad news for restaurant men, hotel keepers and proprietors of other enterprises along shore.

DELICIOUS with lunch or between meals. Fully aged to give that famous flavor.

CARDINALS MAY BE TEAM CUBS MUST BEAT FOR PENNANT

ST. LOUIS SQUAD HAS RECORD OF 9 STRAIGHT WINS

ACHIEVED 17 VICTORIES OUT OF THEIR LAST 21 STARTS MADE

TODAY ARE WITHIN 1 PERCENTAGE POINT OF THIRD-PLACE GIANTS

(By United Press)
Gaby Street's St. Louis Cardinals may be the team Chicago must beat for the pennant.

The Cards, with a record of nine straight wins and 17 victories out of their last 21 starts, today were within one percentage point of the third-place Giants, only 5 1/2 games behind the Cubs. St. Louis, after a miserable start, began their present drive on Aug. 9. The Cards knocked the Robins out of first place and continued their success after New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Cards climaxed their drive on Thursday by taking an 8 to 7 20-inning tussle from the Cubs. Trailing by 0-5 when they went to bat in the seventh inning, the Cubs touched Grimes for three runs and added two tying runs in the eighth off Lindsey, Grimes' successor. The clubs then reeled off six scoreless innings. The Cards got two in the 15th only to have the Cubs tie the score in their half. Douthett's single, Adams' infield out and High's single gave the Cards the winning run in the 20th.

The Brooklyn Robins continued their practice of ruining New York's pennant hopes by making it two straight over the Giants, winning 8 to 7. A big sixth inning when they scored seven runs gave the Robins the game and second place. Vance went the route on the mound for Brooklyn. The Pittsburgh Pirates took both ends of a double-header from the Cincinnati Reds, 16 to 12 and 11 to 2. The Pirates hit well in both games, getting 16 safeties in the opener and 14 in the nightcap.

Philadelphia and Boston staged a batting orgy with the Phillies coming out on top, 13 to 10. Walter Berger, Boston outfielder, got his 31st home run of the season during the game.

Wes Ferrell featured Friday's American League games. The big Cleveland right-hander scored his 23rd win of the year as his mates slammed out a 10 to 5 win over the Chicago White Sox. Ferrell did quite a bit of hitting himself, getting a triple, double and single.

Horace Lisenbee bested George Earnshaw in a pitching battle as the Boston Red Sox beat the leading Philadelphia Athletics, 2 to 1. Fox's error in the seventh allowed the winning runs to cross the plate. Lisenbee allowed but six hits.

The Washington Senators picked up a game on the A's and strengthened their hold on second place by defeating the New York Yankees, 6 to 3. Washington scored five runs in the fifth inning.

The St. Louis Browns scored an easy 9 to 1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Blacholder pitched six innings and gave up but four hits. Kimsey then took up the burden and held the Tigers hitless the rest of the way. Dale Alexander saved the Tigers a shutout with a home run.

American Association Tals
Kansas City, Aug. 29.—The Toledo Hens left for other fields today after making a clean sweep of their series with Kansas City. They won yesterday's game, 2 to 1.

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—After dropping the opener, 12 to 8, St. Paul came back in the nightcap yesterday and clouted out 12 hits to win from Indianapolis, 11 to 2.

Milwaukee, Aug. 29.—Staving off a ninth inning attack which netted three runs, Milwaukee eked out a 7 to 6 victory over Columbus yesterday.

Minneapolis, Aug. 29.—The Louisville Colonels showed yesterday some of the hard-hitting baseball which has placed them at the top of the league by taking a double-header from Minneapolis, 5 to 3 and 10 to 9.

PIPE MEN SCORE 3 IN LAST TO WIN

DEFEAT BOILERMAKERS 6 AND 5 IN CLOSE D-BALL SHOP LEAGUE GAME

In a fast diamondball game last evening the Pipe Shops defeated the Boilermakers in the N. P. Shops League, 6 to 5, at the water tower grounds, after the Boilermakers held the lead up to the last half of the seventh.

Trailing, the Pipe Shops men crossed three men over the plate in the last half of the seventh to win. In that frame Van Walk, first man up, flied out to Elvig; Robil, Erdman, pinch-hitters, got on base on hits. Walstro made first on an error and after the next hitter dived Gabjou doubled, tying the score, while Fogelstrom brought in the winning run.

Larson, Elvig and Poroth did some fine fielding for the Boilermakers. Rofidal on the mound kept his hits well scattered, striking out six men.

Golewin was on the mound for the Pipe Shops, striking out seven. Goederz and Schwendeman did good work behind the bat. Swanson and Heikinen acted as umpires.

PENNANT HOPES OF CHICAGO CUBS WEAKENED TODAY

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Pennant hopes of the Chicago Cubs were weakened today with the announcement that Pitchers Charlie Root and Fred Blake, two of Manager McCarthy's "big four," will be lost to the club for at least ten days.

Root sprained a muscle in his pitching arm during Wednesday's game with Pittsburgh and Blake injured his back yesterday in attempting to field a bunt during the Cubs' game with St. Louis.

ORDER YACHTS RETURNED TO THE SHIPYARDS

FOURTH ONE, HAROLD S. VANDERBILT, TO GUARD THE AMERICA'S CUP

WILL SAIL HIS ENTERPRISE AGAINST SIR THOMAS LIP-TON'S SHAMROCK V

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE
Newport, R. I., Aug. 29.—Three groups of disappointed millionaire yachtsmen have packed their bags and ordered their million dollar yachts back to the shipyards, while a fourth, Harold S. Vanderbilt, expert pilot and expert bridge player, will have the honor of trying to keep the America's Cup in the United States against the sportsmanlike attempt of Sir Thomas Lipton.

Weetamoe, backed by J. P. Morgan, Yankee, piloted by Charles Francis Adams, and Whirlwind, operated by Landon K. Thorne, are all under tow back to the bone yard, while Enterprise today is taking on extra polishing in Newport harbor. Enterprise, a beautiful sloop with a shining metal mast, may not be able to beat Shamrock, but there is no question she was the fastest of the 1930 yachts turned out by any American shipyard. She licked Weetamoe in a breeze, and she trimmed Yankee in a calm.

Yankee's ownership is the only crowd to register dignified surprise at the committee's selection of Enterprise. Yankee's managers say that if she had been given time to stretch her manifestly poor fitting sails, she would have overcome her tendency to dawdle behind the others in light weather. However, the Boston sloop already has tried on 42 sails, none of which fitted.

The town of Newport is disgusted and disgruntled with the calling off of more elimination trials. It had counted on another week of high prices to make up for the winter time when fishing is not so good, and the end of the series was sad news for restaurant men, hotel keepers and proprietors of other enterprises along shore.

DELICIOUS with lunch or between meals. Fully aged to give that famous flavor.

CONCERT ONE OF UNUSUAL ABILITY

Testimonial Program to Miss Berneice LeMire Was Highlight in Summer Season

LARGE AUDIENCE THRILLED

Pianist Assisted by French Horn Soloist, Colortura Soprano and Violinist

Everyone knows that it is almost impossible to induce people to spend a summer evening indoors, especially here in the midst of the country's summer play ground, and the fact that the Elks' hall was filled Wednesday evening upon the occasion of the testimonial concert to Miss Berneice LeMire demonstrates that there are many sincere music lovers in Brainerd and that there are numerous people who appreciate the finer things in life even to the extent of lending to them tangible encouragement.

Whether one attended the concert in the spirit of deriving personal pleasure or for altruistic reasons he or she was amply rewarded. The program was most unusual in its personnel and performance.

Miss LeMire opened the concert with two Chopin Etudes and "Intermezzo in Octaves" by Leschetizky. It is a pleasure and rather unusual opportunity to hear the greatest of all piano composers at the beginning of the program when one's ability to concentrate is keenest. Miss LeMire played the Aeolian Harp Etude with an allurements that charmed her audience, in a way that speaks more for a performer's ability than had she depended for her first appeal upon a flash of brilliance. She played the Black Key Etude so that justice was done its richness of voice. If Miss LeMire played nothing else than the "Intermezzo," she would have won the confidence of the audience that she had the gift to achieve becoming a concert pianist.

For those who had not before heard Miss Alice Roberta Johnstone's playing of the violin there was a most pleasant surprise and for those who had there was another opportunity to enjoy the violin through four unusually well played numbers.

Miss Johnstone's numbers were interestingly modern without being fantastic. La Gitana, that is, the gipsy, by Kreisler was a well chosen beginning. It was followed by Nocturne by Boulanger and the group closed with the "Short Story" by Gershwin, popularly known for his "Rhapsody in Blue." She played an arrangement of the "Londonderry Air" for an encore. Miss Johnstone plays with a clarity and at same time richness of tone, and an unhampered expression of feeling that speaks of a mastery of the technic of the violin which is a credit to one who does not make the playing of that very difficult instrument a profession.

Mr. Lindenhahn's contribution to the program is another testimony of his civic spirit. It is most unusual that an artist of his calibre should come to the small communities surrounding his lake home and make himself part of those communities. For many years he has played annually at the Pequot county fair. Also recognizing Miss LeMire's talent he has encouraged her and was happy to avail himself of an opportunity to assist her by appearing on the program in her behalf.

Mr. Lindenhahn played two French horn solos, "Lied" by Sinigaglia, and "Die Florelle" by Schubert and for an encore the music by Schubert from which the love song in "Blossom Time" was transcribed.

To hear and see the French horn played as a solo instrument is an unusual opportunity. French horn players are not many. Of these in our country there are none better than Mr. Lindenhahn who has been with the Minneapolis Symphony for 17 years. Hearing him play his horn through its characteristic range of tone color, sonorous, mysterious, or poetic was to feel the presence of the whole symphony.

Artists from the Culbertson management have appeared for a number of years in Brainerd. Knowing that Miss Farrell had been sponsored by these people no little was expected. The spontaneity and persistence of applause following her numbers demonstrated that she had sung herself outside of the narrow limits of expectation. It is not easy to completely convey one's self to one's audience in one group but with her fine colortura soprano voice, lovely appearance and versatile though short program she completely won her audience.

She sang in Norwegian the "Echo Song" by Thrane, made famous by Jennie Lind, and always fresh as so few can sing it. The second number in English was "The Lass with the Delicate Air" by Dr. Arne.

Finally came the much loved "Caro Nome" in Italian by Verdi. Her brilliant and colorful singing of this created for the listeners an imagery of the whole opera.

Mrs. Walter F. Wieland's work as an accompanist proves the exception to the rule that a prophet at home is to the rule that a prophet at home is without honor. She makes her piano tone quality ideal for accompaniments, she has an appreciation of the interpretation of a composition as a whole, and a feeling for the fine nuances of phrasing that makes her accompanying a thing of perfection that is appreciated at home and abroad.

For those who care much for chamber music the "Notturmo" by Wolfman played by Miss Johnstone and Mr. Lindenhahn, accompanied by Miss Farrell was one of the high lights of the evening.

The program was concluded with the Concerto in G Minor by Men-delsohn. This concerto on one hand taxes a pianist's ability to play but on the other hand is kind in conveying to the audience how well one must play to use it on one's program.

Miss Edythe Brandt played the second piano. Miss Brandt's and Miss LeMire's playing are well contrasted for playing together as solo instrument against the piano carrying the orchestral background. Miss Brandt's rich tone is a splendid foil for Miss LeMire's brilliant piano work.

Miss LeMire and Brainerd are most fortunate in having Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone as a teacher of piano. Her ability to bring the technical best out of a pupil is extraordinary.

Studying under Mrs. Johnstone, a pupil's learning of music does not end with technic. He or she learns details too many to enumerate, among which are appreciation of backgrounds and program building. He or she finally leaves her with a repertoire which represents the limit of one's immediate ability. Mrs. Johnstone's interest in her pupil even then does not end. The fact that she has chosen Miss LeMire as worthy of still more effort in her behalf speaks volumes for her ability. At the same time Miss LeMire's talent speaks for itself. Brainerd people were prompt to recognize it when she first appeared before its audiences.

The hearty support given her testimonial concert bears witness to their interest. The ticket sale surpassed expectations. The donations were many and generous. Among these were the hall by the Elks club, the piano by the Brainerd Ladies Musical and the stage furnishings by the Patek Furniture Co.

In Miss LeMire's continuance of her piano studies the best wishes of her community go with her, also confidence in her ultimate success without expectation of the superhuman. There is no royal road to learning. A finished artist of the piano can not be produced in a year nor less than many years.

Farewell Party

About 75 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bakkila and children surprised them at a farewell party at their home on East Oak street Wednesday. The evening was spent socially. Otto Heikkinen gave a short talk expressing sincere regrets of their going, and also presented them with a gift of cash, after which a luncheon was served. They are soon leaving for Heckla, S. D., to make their future home. All departed wishing them success in their new home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who expressed their kindness during the bereavement of our father, Clarence Lee Avery, especially the G. A. R. and Rev. Thomas and those who sent flowers; also Mr. Pointon and son, and the Misses Hass, Helgeson, Krueger who rendered the music.

CONCERT ONE OF UNUSUAL ABILITY

Testimonial Program to Miss Berneice LeMire Was Highlight in Summer Season

LARGE AUDIENCE THRILLED

Pianist Assisted by French Horn Soloist, Coloratura Soprano and Violinist

Everyone knows that it is almost impossible to induce people to spend a summer evening indoors, especially here in the midst of the country's summer play ground, and the fact that the Elks' hall was filled Wednesday evening upon the occasion of the testimonial concert to Miss Berneice LeMire demonstrates that there are many sincere music lovers in Brainerd and that there are numerous people who appreciate the finer things in life even to the extent of lending to them tangible encouragement.

Whether one attended the concert in the spirit of deriving personal pleasure or for altruistic reasons he or she was amply rewarded. The program was most unusual in its personnel and performance.

Miss LeMire opened the concert with two Chopin Etudes and "Intermezzo in Octaves" by Leschetizky. It is a pleasure and rather unusual opportunity to hear the greatest of all piano composers at the beginning of the program when one's ability to concentrate is keenest. Miss LeMire played the Acolian Harp Etude with an allurements that charmed her audience, in a way that speaks more for a performer's ability than had she depended for her first appeal upon a flash of brilliance. She played the Black Key Etude so that justice was done its richness of voice. If Miss LeMire played nothing else than the "Intermezzo," she would have won the confidence of the audience that she had the gift to achieve becoming a concert pianiste.

For those who had not before heard Miss Alice Roberta Johnstone's playing of the violin there was a most pleasant surprise and for those who had there was another opportunity to enjoy the violin through four unusually well played numbers.

Miss Johnstone's numbers were interestingly modern without being fantastic. La Gitana, that is, the gipsy, by Kreisler was a well chosen beginning. It was followed by Nocturne by Boulanger and the group closed with the "Short Story" by Gershwin, popularly known for his "Rhapsody in Blue." She played an arrangement of the "Londonderry Air" for an encore. Miss Johnstone plays with a clarity and at same time richness of tone, and an unhampered expression of feeling that speaks of a mastery of the technique of the violin which is a credit to one who does not make the playing of that very difficult instrument a profession.

Mr. Lindenbahn's contribution to the program is another testimony of his civic spirit. It is most unusual that an artist of his calibre should come to the small communities surrounding his lake home and make himself part of those communities. For many years he has played annually at the Pequot county fair. SALE OF FLOWERS CLOSES FINE SHOW

Odd Plant Grows Two Colors of
Blooms on One Stem; Show
Establishes Record

PRIZE WINNERS PICKED

Bloom, "The Fuehr," Originated by George Kampmann, Jr., Brain-
erd, is Praised

The Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society seventh annual exhibition closed this afternoon with the sale of flowers at 4 o'clock. The show was held at the court house yesterday and today, with hundreds of visitors each day. More interest was taken in the show this year than any of the previous years, and a greater variety of blooms than ever before was shown.

One of the "oddities" of the show was the King Hubert Cannah, which for three years has grown two colors of blooms from the one stem. The first year it occurred, it was thought to be a freak, but each year the two colors of blooms, one a deep crimson red and the other a beautiful yellow, have developed on the one stem. This plant is owned by A. L. Alexander.

Another bloom causing much comment was "The Fuehr," first seedling No. 4, which was originated by George Kampmann Jr. in Brainerd. This bloom was praised by the judges, and H. A. Anderson, who is a national judge, commented especially upon the beauty of the bloom. It is a cross between two varieties of glads.

SALE OF FLOWERS CLOSES FINE SHOW

Odd Plant Grows Two Colors of
Blooms on One Stem; Show
Establishes Record

PRIZE WINNERS PICKED

Bloom, "The Fuehr," Originated by George Kampmann, Jr., Brain-
erd, is Praised

The Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society seventh annual exhibition closed this afternoon with the sale of flowers at 4 o'clock. The show was held at the court house yesterday and today, with hundreds of visitors each day. More interest was taken in the show this year than any of the previous years, and a greater variety of blooms than ever before was shown.

One of the "oddities" of the show was the King Hubert Cannah, which for three years has grown two colors of blooms from the one stem. The first year it occurred, it was thought to be a freak, but each year the two colors of blooms, one a deep crimson red and the other a beautiful yellow, have developed on the one stem. This plant is owned by A. L. Alexander.

Another bloom causing much comment was "The Fuehr," first seedling No. 4, which was originated by George Kampmann, Jr. in Brainerd. This bloom was praised by the judges, and H. A. Anderson, who is a national judge, commented especially upon the beauty of the bloom. It is a cross between two varieties of glads.

"The SLA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.

FAITH KILCUP marries Noll Wing, middle-aged captain of the whaler, Sally Sims, and sails away with him. Roy, Faith's brother, and Dan'l Tobey, who loves Faith, are among the crew. Noll's strength is failing from age and drink. Seeking to discredit Noll in Faith's eyes, Dan'l causes a quarrel between Noll and Mauger, one of the crew, during which Noll kicks out Mauger's eye.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VII
NOLL went into the after-cabin and found Faith there. Her back was turned, she was looking out of the stern windows. He wished she would look at him, but she did not. So he said, his voice thick with anger and at the same time plaintive with hunger for a reassuring word:

"That damned rat won't try that again!"

Then Faith turned and told him: "That was a cowardly thing to do, Noll, my husband."

He had come for comfort, he was ready to humble himself; he was a prey to the instinct of wrongdoing man which bids him confess and be forgiven. But Faith's eyes accused him. When a man's wife turns against him—He said, bitter with rage:

"Keep your mouth shut, child. This is not a pink tea aboard the Sally Sims. You know nothing of what's necessary to handle rough men."

Faith smiled a little wistfully. "I know it is never necessary to kick an unconscious man in the face," she said.

He was so helpless with fury and shame and misery that he raised his great fist as though he would have struck even Faith.

"Mind your own matters," he bade her harshly. "The dog struck me. Where would the ship be if I let that go? I should have killed him."

"Did you not?" Faith asked gently. "I thought he would be dead."

"No; hell, no!" Noll blustered. "You can't kill a snake. He'll be poisonous as ever in a day."

"I saw," said Faith; she shuddered faintly. "I—think his eye is gone."

"Eye?" Noll echoed. "What's an eye?" He's lucky to live. There's skippers that would have killed him where he stood. For what he did—

Faith shook her head. "He's only a little man, weak, not used to sea life. You are big and strong, Noll. My Noll. There's was no need of kicking him."

The man flung himself then into an insane burst of anger at her. He hated the whole world, hated Faith most of all because she would not soothe him and tell him never to mind. He raved at her, gripped her round shoulders and shook her, flung her away from him. He was mad.

And Faith, steadfastly watching him, though her soul trembled, prayed in her heart that she might find the way to bring Noll back to manhood again; she endured his curses; she endured his harsh grip upon her shoulders. She waited, while he flooded her with abuse. And at the end, when he was quiet for lack of words to say, she went to him and touched his arm.

"Noll," she said. "He jerked away from her. 'What?' 'Noll—look at me.'"

He obeyed, in spite of himself; and there were such depths of tenderness and sorrow in her eyes that the man's heart melted in him.

"It's not Mauger I'm sorry for," she told him. "It's you, Noll. That you should be so cowardly, Noll—"

His rage broke then; he fell to fretting, whining. She sat down; he slumped like a child beside her. He told her he was tired, weary; that he was worried; that his nerves had betrayed him; that the drink was in him.

"They're all trying to stir me," he complained. "They take a joy in doing the thing wrong. They're helpless, slithering fools. I lost myself, Faith."

He pleaded with her, desperately anxious to make her understand; and Faith understood from the beginning, with the full wisdom of women, yet let him talk out all his unhappiness and remorse. And because she loved him, her arms were about him and his great head was drawn against her breast long before he was done. She comforted him with touches of her light hands upon his head; she soothed him with murmurs that were no words at all.

The man reveled in this orgy of self-abasement. He groveled before her until she began to be faintly contemptuous in her heart at his groveling. She bade him make an end of it.

"I was a coward, Faith!" he

"Noll, you're the master of this ship," she said thoughtfully. "Old Jonathan felt put her in your charge. You are responsible for her. And that puts certain obligations on you, Noll. An obligation to be wise, and to be prudent, and to be brave."

He came back and sat down beside her. She touched his knee. "You are like a king aboard here, Noll. And—the king can do no wrong. I would not go to Mauger if I were you. You made a mistake, but there is no need you should humble yourself before the men. They would not understand; they would only despise you, Noll."

"Let them!" he said hotly. "They're sneaking, spineless things."

"Let them fear you; let them hate you," she told him. "But—never let them forget you are master, Noll. Don't go to Mauger."

He had no real desire to go; he wished only to back in her newfound sympathy. And he yielded readily enough at last.

The matter passed abruptly. She rose; he went up on deck; the Sally Sims went on her way. And for a day or two Noll Wing, an old man, was like a boy who has repented and been forgiven; he

The man flung himself into an insane burst of anger at her.

cried, "You're right. I was a coward."

"You are a man, Noll," she told him. "Stronger than other men, and not in your fists alone. That is why I love you so."

"I know, I know," he told her. "Oh, you're a wonder, Faith."

"You're a man—always remember that," she said. "He got up abruptly. He started toward the main cabin and she asked:

"Where are you going, Noll?" "Forward," he said. "I've wronged Mauger." He was drunk with this new-found joy of abasing himself. "I'll tell the man so. I'll right things with him." And he added thoughtfully: "He cursed me. I don't want the man's hate. I'll right things with him."

She smiled faintly, shook her head. "No, Noll. He was stubborn. 'Yes. Why not? I've—'"

was offensively virtuous, offensively good-natured.

Mauger returned to his duties the second day. He wore a bandage across his face; and when it was discarded a week later the hollow socket where his eye had been was revealed. His suffering had worked a terrible change in the man; he had been morose and desperate; he was now too much given to chuckling, as though at some secret jest of his own. He went slyly about his tasks; he seemed to have a pride in his misfortune; when he saw men shrink with distaste at sight of his scarred countenance he chuckled under his breath. In the upper lid some maimed nerve persisted in living. It twitched, now and then, in such a fashion that Mauger seemed to be winking with that deep hollow in his face.

SCANDAL ARISES OUT OF THE PAST

HARASSES THE POLITICIANS OF TAMMANY HALL IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 29.—(UP)—A scandal out of the past arose today to harass the politicians of Tammany Hall in the midst of their graft troubles.

The sinister rumors which followed the sudden death a year ago of Magistrate Andrew Macrery are being investigated anew by the office of Attorney General Hamilton Ward in his bribery inquiry.

Magistrate Macrery, on the afternoon of August 21, 1929, went into a conference with a Tammany district leader and his associate at their office in a mid-town building. When the conference ended he was taken by automobile to a physician's office. He died a few minutes later.

Although the cause of death was given officially as heart disease, there was a rumor, said to have come directly from the magistrate's brother but which never was confirmed that Macrery died from a beating which he received for failing to pay Tammany officials the full price of his reappointment to the bench.

That price, it was reported, was $30,000. The magistrate was said to have made all but the final payment.

FAMILY QUARREL ENDS IN DEATH

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—(UP)—A quarrel brought on by Lazarus Romain's belief that his wife received too much attention from another man in an amateur theatrical, led Romain to kill his wife today and then commit suicide.

Lena Romain, their 9-year-old daughter, tried to quiet the couple but her father pushed her out of the room. As she ran for aid she heard three shots fired. When neighbors arrived both Romain and his wife were dead.

LON CHANEY IS LAID TO REST

SCREEN'S GREATEST CHARACTER ACTOR LIES BESIDE HIS FATHER

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Lon Chaney, the screen's greatest character actor, rested beside his father in Forest Lawn cemetery today as Hollywood still talked of the impressive last rites for the actor.

Chaney's funeral and burial late yesterday called for honors given few celebrities and emphasized the deep esteem he commanded from persons in all stations of life. Representatives of the U. S. marine corps, of which Chaney was an honorary member, had charge of the service.

Chaplain H. S. Dyer of the San Diego marine base read a brief Episcopalian burial ritual and delivered a simple eulogy at the bier.

Later while silence was observed in all Hollywood studios and in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offices all over the world, another group of marines lowered a flag and fired a salute at the M-G-M lot.

Mrs. Chaney collapsed several times. She first became hysterical when the notes of "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," one of Chaney's favorite songs, floated through the tiny, flower-filled chapel where a small company of friends and relatives had gathered.

"The SLA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE
EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.

FAITH KILCUP marries Noll Wing, middle-aged captain of the whaler, Sally Sims, and sails away with him. Roy, Faith's brother, and Danl. Tobey, who loves Faith, are among the crew. Noll's strength is failing from age and drink. Seeking to discredit Noll in Faith's eyes, Danl. causes a quarrel between Noll and Mauger, one of the crew, during which Noll kicks out Mauger's eye.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VII

NOLL went into the after-cabin and found Faith there. Her back was turned, she was looking out of the stern windows. He wished she would look at him, but she did not. So he said, his voice thick with anger and at the same time plaintive with hunger for a reassuring word:

"That damned rat won't try that again!"

Then Faith turned and told him: "That was a cowardly thing to do, Noll, my husband."

He had come for comfort, he was ready to humble himself; he was a prey to the instinct of wrongdoing man which bids him confess and be forgiven. But Faith's eyes accused him. When a man's wife turns against him—He said, bitter with rage:

"Keep your mouth shut, child. This is not a pink tea aboard the Sally Sims. You know nothing of what's necessary to handle rough men."

Faith smiled a little wistfully. "I know it is never necessary to kick an unconscious man in the face," she said.

He was so helpless with fury and shame and misery that he raised his great fist as though he would have struck even Faith. "Mind your own matters," he bade her harshly. "The dog struck me. Where would the ship be if I let that go? I should have killed him."

"Did you not?" Faith asked gently. "I thought he would be dead."

"No; hell, no!" Noll blustered. "You can't kill a snake. He'll be poisonous as ever in a day."

"I saw," said Faith; she shuddered faintly. "I think his eye is gone."

"Eye?" Noll echoed. "What's an eye?" He's lucky to live. There's skippers that would have killed him where he stood. For what he did—

Faith shook her head. "He's only a little man, weak, not used to sea life. You are big and strong, Noll. My Noll. There's no need of kicking him."

The man flung himself then into an insane burst of anger at her. He hated the whole world, hated Faith most of all because she would not soothe him and tell him never to mind. He raved at her, gripped her round shoulders and shook her, flung her away from him. He was mad.

And Faith, steadfastly watching him, though her soul trembled, prayed in her heart that she might find the way to bring Noll back to manhood again; she endured his curses; she endured his harsh grip upon her shoulders. She waited, while he flooded her with abuse. And at the end, when he was quiet for lack of words to say, she went to him and touched his arm.

"Noll," she said. "He jerked away from her. "What?"

"Noll—look at me."

He obeyed, in spite of himself; and there were such depths of tenderness and sorrow in her eyes that the man's heart melted in him.

"It's not Mauger I'm sorry for," she told him. "It's you, Noll. That you should be so cowardly, Noll—"

His rage broke then; he fell to fretting, whining. She sat down; he slumped like a child beside her. He told her he was tired, weary; that he was worried; that his nerves had betrayed him; that the drink was in him.

"They're all trying to stir me," he complained. "They take a joy in doing the thing wrong. They're helpless, slithering fools. I lost myself, Faith."

He pleaded with her, desperately anxious to make her understand; and Faith understood from the beginning, with the full wisdom of women, yet let him talk out all his unhappiness and remorse. And because she loved him, her arms were about him and his great head was drawn against her breast long before he was done. She comforted him with touches of her light hands upon his head; she soothed him with murmurs that were no words at all.

The man reveled in this orgy of self-abasement. He groveled before her until she began to be faintly contemptuous in her heart at his groveling. She bade him make an end of it.

"I was a coward, Faith!" he

"Noll, you're the master of this ship," she said thoughtfully. "Old Jonathan Felt put her in your charge. You are responsible for her. And that puts certain obligations on you, Noll. An obligation to be wise, and to be prudent, and to be brave."

He came back and sat down beside her. She touched his knee. "You are like a king aboard here, Noll. And the king can do no wrong. I would not go to Mauger if I were you. You made a mistake, but there is no need you should humble yourself before the men. They would not understand; they would only despise you, Noll."

"Let them!" he said hotly. "They're sneaking, spineless things."

"Let them fear you; let them hate you," she told him. "But—never let them forget you are master, Noll. Don't go to Mauger."

He had no real desire to go; he wished only to bask in her new-found sympathy. And he yielded readily enough at last.

The matter passed abruptly. She rose; he went up on deck; the Sally Sims went on her way. And for a day or two Noll Wing, an old man, was like a boy who has repented and been forgiven; he

The man flung himself into an insane burst of anger at her.

cried, "You're right. I was a coward."

"You are a man, Noll," she told him. "Stronger than other men, and not in your fists alone. That is why I love you so."

"I know, I know," he told her. "Oh, you're a wonder, Faith."

"You're a man—always remember that," she said.

He got up abruptly. He started toward the main cabin and she asked:

"Where are you going, Noll?"

"Forward," he said. "I've wronged Mauger. He was drunk with this new-found joy of abusing himself. I'll tell the man so. I'll right things with him. And he added thoughtfully: 'He cursed me. I don't want the man's hate. I'll right things with him.'"

She smiled faintly, shook her head.

"No, Noll."

He was stubborn.

"Yes. Why not? I've—"

was offensively virtuous, offensively good-natured.

Mauger returned to his duties the second day. He wore a bandage across his face; and when it was discarded a week later the hollow socket where his eye had been was revealed. His suffering had worked a terrible change in the man; he had been morose and desperate; he was now too much given to chuckling, as though at some secret jest of his own.

He went slyly about his tasks; he seemed to have a pride in his misfortune; when he saw men shrink with distaste at sight of his scarred countenance he chuckled under his breath. In the upper lid some maimed nerve persisted in living. It twitched, now and then, in such a fashion that Mauger seemed to be winking with that deep hollow in his face.

SCANDAL ARISES OUT OF THE PAST

HARASSES THE POLITICIANS OF TAMMANY HALL IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 29.—(UP)—A scandal out of the past arose today to harass the politicians of Tammany Hall in the midst of their graft troubles.

The sinister rumors which followed the sudden death a year ago of Magistrate Andrew Macrery are being investigated anew by the office of Attorney General Hamilton Ward in his bribery inquiry.

Magistrate Macrery, on the afternoon of August 21, 1929, went into a conference with a Tammany district leader and his associate at their office in a mid-town building. When the conference ended he was taken by automobile to a physician's office. He died a few minutes later.

Although the cause of death was given officially as heart disease, there was a rumor, said to have come directly from the magistrate's brother but which never was confirmed that Macrery died from a beating which he received for failing to pay Tammany officials the full price of his reappointment to the bench.

That price, it was reported, was $30,000. The magistrate was said to have made all but the final payment.

FAMILY QUARREL ENDS IN DEATH

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—(UP)—A quarrel brought on by Lazarus Romain's belief that his wife received too much attention from another man in an amateur theatrical, led Romain to kill his wife today and then commit suicide.

Lena Romain, their 9-year-old daughter, tried to quiet the couple but her father pushed her out of the room. As she ran for aid she heard three shots fired. When neighbors arrived both Romain and his wife were dead.

LON CHANEY IS LAID TO REST

SCREEN'S GREATEST CHARACTER ACTOR LIES BESIDE HIS FATHER

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Lon Chaney, the screen's greatest character actor, rested beside his father in the Forest Lawn cemetery today as Hollywood still talked of the impressive last rites for the actor.

Chaney's funeral and burial late yesterday called for honors given few celebrities and emphasized the deep esteem he commanded from persons in all stations of life. Representatives of the U. S. marine corps, of which Chaney was an honorary member, had charge of the service.

Chaplain H. S. Dyer of the San Diego marine base read a brief Episcopal burial ritual and delivered a simple eulogy at the bier.

Later while silence was observed in all Hollywood studios and in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offices all over the world, another group of marines lowered a flag and fired a salute at the M-G-M lot.

Mrs. Chaney collapsed several times. She first became hysterical when the notes of "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," one of Chaney's favorite songs, floated through the tiny, flower-filled chapel where a small company of friends and relatives had gathered.
